

JusticeMatters

Summer 2021 Internship Information

JusticeMatters addresses the roots and repercussions of human trafficking in North Carolina by providing trauma-informed legal services and promoting just policies and practices.

Our internship is designed to engage students in supporting the provision of direct legal services and the promotion of systemic solutions, furthering our mission and facilitating professional development of undergraduate and graduate students. Interns will receive training and mentoring by our team of experienced staff, gain experience in utilizing existing or learning new skill-sets to support our mission, and engage in the multi-faceted work of JusticeMatters—from assisting clients to systems-level advocacy.

Join the JusticeMatters team as we seek the freedom and flourishing of all people.

Dates and Deadlines

2021 Internship Dates:	May 24, 2021 – July 30, 2021 (10-12 weeks depending on intern schedule)

Requirements and Logistics

Education and Work Experience

JusticeMatters recognizes that interns may have a wide variety of educational and work experiences and will evaluate applicants on a case by case basis.

Work Hours

Summer interns typically work a five-day 40-hour week, which includes opportunities for professional development. Opportunities scheduled outside of typical work hours are optional but will enhance the experience. Due to COVID-19 precautions, JusticeMatters' offices are closed and staff and interns are working remotely. JusticeMatters will continue to monitor the situation and keep intern candidates informed as to whether the internship will be in-person and/or remote.

Expenses

Interns are responsible for living costs and housing. The internship position is unpaid, but interns can raise support or apply for outside funding for their expenses and/or seek academic credit.
